

ANUJ'S SUCCESS STORY

Anuj is a class 6th student living in D-79, New Shyam Nagar jhuggi, New Delhi. His family hails from Darbhanga, Bihar. His father works as a welder while his mother is a tailor. Until July 2013, he was irregular in school and unable to do his homework properly. The reason: unsatisfactory level of teaching in his school. His parents neither can teach him nor pay for private tuitions to improve his education level. In August 2013, CSSAR motivated Anuj to join its remedial classes. Since then, he has been attending our remedial classes. Now he is regular in school and does his homework properly. He now understands different subjects better. He scored 91% in annual school exam of 5th standard held in March 2017 and stood first in his class. He wishes to pursue study at higher level. He also got 'Medhavi scholarship'. Medhavi scholarship is given to those children who perform very well in inter-school competition conducted by the education department of Delhi govt. He is very good in drawing too. He is one of the many who have benefitted from CSSAR's remedial classes. His humble background together with his dedication and persistent effort with proper guidance has helped him to achieve new heights and dreams for bright future.
