

RAJKUMARI:WHERE THERE IS WILL, THERE'S A WAY

An educated person can achieve unfathomable feats so CSSAR helps underprivileged kids receive the education that they deserve so that they can become active contributors to our society and themselves in the future.

Rajkumari started taking CSSAR's remedial classes from 7th class and has been associated with CSSAR for more than half a decade. She passed out from CSSAR in 2014 and cleared her 12th board exams from Government Girls Senior Secondary School, Subhash Nagar, Delhi, with 55%. Hailing from Bharu Basti in Uttar Pradesh, her family migrated to Delhi in 1999 due to financial instability caused by drought in the village.

Rajkumari has benefited immensely from the remedial classes held by CSSAR and has been exposed to a plethora of new ideas and experiences. As a child, Rajkumari dreamed of helping out her parents by supporting them financially. She used to work as a domestic help after school to put in her bit for the household. Currently Rajkumari works in the Lifestyle store at Pacific mall, Subhash Nagar. Prior to this she used to work at ZARA in the same mall. Rajkumari wishes to work as an air hostess in the near future. Where there is will, there's a way and CSSAR is proud to call Rajkumari one of its alumni and wishes her the best for future.
