

Parkhed village got its New Way of Life through Education

Vikas Sahyog Pratishthan carries out a Quality Education Program to enhance learning among students with the help of National Stock Exchange.

In a village named Parkhed, situated in the hills of Buldhana district of Maharashtra, lived people from socially backward society. A community known as 'Banjara' lived in this village. Due to extremely rural area, the village was lacking with educational facilities. Also, the local government was not paying attention to these problems. Hence, people were not bothered about education much.

People were only bothered about their daily living. They were very negative about education. Not a single parent was visiting school and asking about their children's progress.

VSP conducts Quality Education Program along with students from 3rd Std to 5th Std. But, no candidate with D.Ed. degree was available to teach students. Therefore, Jitendra Jadhav who had completed his HSC was appointed to enhance Quality Education Program in schools.

Along with Jitendra Jadhav, VSP started awareness among Banjara community regarding importance of education and involvement of parents in their child's education. Due to regular interventions with the parents, a sense of responsiveness started to build among the parents. Parents started to make an attempt to know their child's progress by visiting schools.

Shri. Prakash Rathod, who was the head of School Management Committee, along with VSP and Shri. Jitendra Jadhav, were making an attempt in knowing the techniques to be used for providing quality education.

Slowly and gradually, educational atmosphere started to grow in Parkhed village. Students were provided with educational material. Parents started to know regarding materials used for teaching, also the techniques used for learning. This type of learning was conducted in Quality Education Program Centre. Therefore, parents started to realise that this should also be conducted in Zilla Parishad Schools.

Hence, SMC started to guide Zilla Parishad school teachers, which changed their attitude and they accepted this innovative way of teaching.

Vikas Sahyog Pratishthan along with National Stock Exchange bought a positive change in people's attitude regarding education. Youths have started taking admissions for higher education. Some students expressed their willingness to join back education. They all thank Vikas Sahyog Pratishthan for showing them this new way of life.
