Women Self-Help Group Programme :

One of the reasons for rural poverty in our country is low access to credit and financial services. The four major reasons for lack of financial inclusion are inability to provide collateral security, poor credit absorption capacity, inadequate reach of the institutions and weak community network. The existence of sound community networks in villages is increasingly being recognised as one of the most important elements of credit linkage in the rural areas. They help in accessing credit to the poor and thus, play a critical role in poverty alleviation. They also help to build social capital among the poor, especially women. This empowers women and gives them greater voice in the society. Financial independence through self-employment has many externalities such as improved literacy levels, better health care and even better family planning.

Care Village Foundation is working for creation and to sustain these Self Help Groups for socio-economic development of the society. These efforts are being done by the organisation in some states like Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Uttarakhand and Delhi since long. Meetings of these groups are being organised at the head office and regional offices of the organisation besides the nearby common and suitable place of the community or members of SHGs. The community members who have yet to join the SHGs are informed about its benefits and procedure of formation. They are told the way of self independence with collective efforts.

In April, during such community meeting about 150 women participated in this meeting. These women are helping the organisation towards progress. Discussion was held for creation of new SHGs, linking of existing SHGs with banks, loan through non banking system, maintenance of record of SHGs, opportunities of self employment. Women were encouraged to create SHGs at their own and start working independently or jointly.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE ACT, 2005 – AWARENESS PROGRAMME:

Domestic violence is not physical violence alone. Domestic violence is any behavior the purpose of which is to gain power and control over a spouse, partner, girl/boyfriend or intimate family member. Abuse is a learned behavior; it is not caused by anger, mental problems, drugs or alcohol, or other common excuses. When the general public thinks about domestic violence, they usually think in terms of physical assault that results in visible injuries to the victim. This is only one type of abuse. There are several categories of abusive behavior, each of which has its own devastating consequences. Lethality involved with physical abuse may place the victim at higher risk, but the long term destruction of personhood that accompanies the other forms of abuse is significant and cannot be minimized.

An awareness session on domestic violence was organised by Care Village Foundation at Bakkarwala in which more than 200 men & women and youth took part. AWARENESS PROGRAMME ON MENSTRUAL HYGIENE AND IMPORTANCE OF SANITARY NAPKINS – (11th JUNE 2018)

Menstruation and menstrual practices still face many social, cultural, and religious restrictions which are a big barrier in the path of menstrual hygiene management. In many parts of the country especially in rural areas girls are not prepared and aware about menstruation so they face many difficulties and challenges at home, schools, and work places. While reviewing literature, we found that little, inaccurate, or incomplete knowledge about menstruation is a great hindrance in the path of personal and menstrual hygiene management. Girls and women have very less or no knowledge about reproductive tract infections caused due to ignorance of personal hygiene during menstruation time. In rural areas, women do not have access to sanitary products or they know very little about the types and method of using them or are unable to afford such products due to high cost. So, they mostly rely on reusable cloth pads which they wash and use again. Needs and requirements of the adolescent girls and women are ignored despite the fact that there are major developments in the area of water and sanitation. Women manage menstruation differently when they are at home or outside; at homes, they dispose of menstrual products in domestic wastes and in public toilets and they flush them in the toilets without knowing the consequences of choking. So, there should be a need to educate and make them aware about the environmental pollution and health hazards associated with them. Implementation of modern techniques like incineration can help to reduce the waste. Also, awareness should be created to emphasize the use of reusable sanitary products or the natural sanitary products made from materials like banana fibre, bamboo fibre, sea sponges, water hyacinth, and so on.

Despite a slew of government schemes aimed to promote menstrual hygiene among women and adolescent girls, use of sanitary napkins is still sparse in large swathes of India. As such an awareness programme on 'Menstrual Hygiene- Sanitary Napkin-Its Importance' was organised at J.J colony Bakkarwala Delhi-41. The female teenagers from the nearby Govt. schools and area attended this awareness programme. These participants were provided detailed information about menstruation and benefits of uses of sanitary pads. These participants were also provided sanitary pads free of cost on this occasion. The resource person were the specialist from the medical profession.

JULY REPORT (2018-19)

Beti Bachaao Beti padhaao campaign

The trend of decline in the Child Sex Ratio (CSR), defined as number of girls per 1000 of boys between 0-6 years of age, has been unabated since 1961. The decline in the CSR is a major indicator of women disempowerment. CSR reflects both, pre-birth discrimination manifested through gender biased sex selection, and post birth discrimination against girls. Social construct discriminating against girls on the one hand, easy availability, affordability and subsequent misuse of diagnostic tools on the other hand, have been critical in increasing Sex Selective Elimination of girls leading to low Child Sex Ratio. Since coordinated and convergent efforts are needed to ensure survival, protection and empowerment of the girl child, Government has announced Beti Bachao Beti Padhao initiative.

Care Village Foundation organised an awareness session in this regard in which hundreds of women of the local community participated. They were got aware about the actual situation of girl birth rate and their conditions in our society. They were also informed about their rights and duties to save the girl child and also precautions to be taken to do so. The participants were encouraged to take oath to save the girl child and educate her to establish herself in this society. Several dignitaries like Shri V.K. Meena, Secretary, Delhi Legal Service Authority (West), Shri Suresh Pahalwan, Counselor of Ward No. 19 etc. were pleased to address the community at this occasion. There were several queries of the women on this issue which were resolved by Shri V.K. Meena on the spot. At last refreshments were distributed.

SUPPORT TOILET AND DRINKING WATER FACILITY – 1st July 2018

The benefits of having access to an improved drinking water source can only be fully realized when there is also access to improved sanitation and adherence to good hygiene practices. Beyond the immediate, obvious advantages of people being hydrated and healthier, access to water, sanitation and hygiene – known collectively as WASH – has profound wider socio-economic impacts, particularly for women and girls.

Care Village Foundation run a campaign to support toilets and safe drinking water facility specially in Government schools. The volunteers and community representatives of the local area join the efforts of CVF whole heartedly.

Jute is the second most important vegetable fiber after cotton due to its versatility. Jute is used chiefly to make cloth for wrapping bales of raw cotton, and to make sacks and coarse cloth. The fibers are also woven into curtains, chair coverings, carpets, area rugs, hessian cloth, and backing for linoleum. Jute is called as the golden fibre because it is a cash crop and can be very profitable for the economy as its export can bring in a lot of money into the economy. It is the second most important natural fibre after cotton and its demand is again on the rise in the world. Uttar Pradesh Govt. is working hard to promote jute products in the State.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

The UN General Assembly passed a resolution in September 2015 under which they laid down the 17 Goals of Sustainable Development under the Agenda titled “Transforming the World: the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development”. Under the 17 Goals, they have laid down 169 targets to be achieved under the goals. The SDGs have covered broad areas of imminent importance like health, education, global warming, gender equality, water, sanitation, energy, urbanization, environment and social justice.

The SDG are a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet and to ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity. The UN Development Agency provides support to governments to integrate SDGs into their national development plans and policies. UNDP has stated that achieving SDGs requires the partnership of governments, private sector, civil society and citizens alike to make sure we leave a better planet for future generations.

Care Village Foundation being a Non- Governmental Organisation forms a part of the civil society working towards achieving a developed and sustainable society. The core of our vision and mission is sustainable development and achieving peace and prosperity for the society. Our foundation has therefore, taken sincere efforts to reach out to those sections of society which are underprivileged and often ignored by various agencies. They are the people who are a part of civilization but they are not included into the civilization. They live on the fringes of urbanization and development. Care Village Foundation has made efforts to include such persons into the civilization by creating a bridge between them and the development agencies like the government as well as non-governmental entities to give them a chance of rising above their situation of poverty, desperation and inadequacy. Our work has been focused on small communities and addressing their myriad needs like health, education, sanitation, poverty, employment, etc. thus, we have taken a holistic approach towards developing small communities and building their capabilities to ensure they get an opportunity to lead a quality, peaceful and prosperous life.
