ENSURING SUSTAINABLE RURAL LIVELIHOODS

Reducing Poverty & Building Self-reliant Community

Nearly 85 per cent of Odisha's population (36.81 M) lives in rural areas. Rural poverty in the state is one of the highest with a large portion of the Scheduled tribe and caste population in western, north and southern Odisha still living in a precarious condition, with a very low economic base. The rural population in this region experiences multiple vulnerabilities due to geographical condition, regional disparities, unequal distribution of resources and frequent occurrence of natural calamities. The marginalised groups are disproportionately female, belonging to ethnic minorities and indigenous peoples, and living in the backward blocks experience multiple vulnerable conditions and are often assets less and extremely poor conditions. They do not have access to the assets required to produce enough food or to earn enough to buy the food they need; they have little or no say in the programs and policies that affect them.

With support from Heifer International India, NYDHEE has implemented Mayurbhanj Socio-economic Development Project in Bangriposi block of Mayurbhanj District from 2014-2020 covering 5010 BPL Households, 433 SHGs. This is one of the major project of NYDHEE in livelihood intervention implemented with goal of alleviate extreme poverty among the small holder farmers in Mayurbhanj through a holistic approach addressing Enhanced Livelihood and Income, Improved Nutrition and Food security, better Environmental Practices, Women Empowerment and building Social Capital.

Promotion of Vegetable Cultivation by SHGs in Bangriposi Block

The Heifer supported Livelihood programme centred around women SHG members, small and marginal farmers, livestock based entrepreneurs belonging to poor and marginal communities. Through the project intervention, the vulnerable groups are empowered and capacitated through increasing their knowledge base, skill building and facilitating access to resources. The approach has been to promote and strengthen Peoples' Institutions, undertake Micro-level Planning by involving those institutions, providing necessary physical inputs and convergence with mainstream development programmes for sustaining the initiatives. Helping women from marginalised to earn their livelihoods using a verity of Agriculture and non-agriculture avenues is one of the core mandates of our livelihood interventions. With completion of five years livelihood interventions in Bangriposi block, here some of the major milestones as follow-

Empowered community Institution for enhanced financial sustainability:

NYDHEE supported and promoted community based institutions like Self-help groups, Farmer producer organization at the micro watershed level to carry forward the livelihood activities. The empowered institutions are helping participants to enhance their skills and explore alternative income generation activities for ensuring household food security and sustained income opportunities. Through various initiatives, SHGs are taking lead role in livelihood activities and increasing the social capital of the participants, improving the management of resources and community cohesion for Financial Sustainability. FPO's savings and credit activities for enterprise investment now further support reinvestment in enterprises that prevent families from reverting to the vicious circle of poverty due to lack capital investment.

Under the MSED project, the programmatic intervention in the community emphasis on a holistic approach comprising I) Enhanced income and livelihood through the goat value chain II) Fodder management and cultivation for sustainability III) Improved nutrition and compliment family income through Kitchen Garden IV) Backyard Poultry for nutrition and complementing family income.

Livelihood through Goat Value Chain:

Livelihood based on Goat rearing is one of the major components of Heifer supported MSED project. In rural community, Goat is treated as insurance in the community as it acts as the shock absorber in the scarcity period and fulfils the economic need and also plays a critical role in the landless households. Despite of high market demand and favourable environment condition, the landless families in the project intervention area never taken up the goat rearing through enterprise model before the implementation of the project.

The project activities like vaccination support, physical inputs, and training on improved animal management, fodder development, collective marketing and marketing linkage helped 70% of the project participants to become goat based entrepreneurs. The goat value chain model practiced in the project area has enhanced the income of 3500 plus families by INR 55000 per annum. They have increased knowledge on animal management which reduced the goat mortality to 0.17%. The improved market linkage through the

Goat immunization by Paravet

FPO has also increased the profitability in the goat rearing enterprises. 80-85% families have adopted IAM practices. Goat and poultry herd size increased by 100%.

Through Model Goat shed promotion activities, 06 (community) and 725 (Individual) goat shed have been built covering 79 villages benefiting 815 households.

Model Goat Shed prepared by the community

Fodder management and cultivation for sustainability:

Adequate supply of Feed & Fodder for the livestock is critical for optimizing production and revenue. Through regular training and input support by NYDHEE, majority of the project families are practicing improved fodder management and cultivation in the project area.

Improved nutrition and compliment family income through Kitchen Garden:

Food security and nutritional diversity is one of the key areas in the project area. Through input support and regular training on Kitchen garden development under the MSED project helped the marginalized households in developing the kitchen gardens at their households. The kitchen garden development activities now address food insecurity and bring in self-reliance, sovereignty and dignity. With scarcity of land resource for many households, they have converted small areas around the house into Kitchen Garden. The project families cultivate seasonal vegetables such as Vegetables (Kharif & Rabi), Ragi, maize, potato, tomato, pumpkin, onion and other horticulture vegetable crops to meet their nutritional requirements and supplementing family income in case of access. Regular trainings have improved their knowledge about nutrition intake and various vegetables cultivation techniques. Among the 5010 families, now 3345 families practice kitchen garden in 75 villages. About 60-65% families have reported that they have included green vegetables and fruits in their daily diets.

Backyard Poultry for nutrition and complementing family income:

The project facilitated Backyard Poultry initiatives among the underprivileged communities in Bangriposi which now contributes significantly towards supplementing household income and nutrition requirements. It involves farming with minimum available infrastructure and open range. As this involves usage of locally available materials such as food grain waste, floor mill waste, vegetable waste etc., to keep the cost of production at a minimum, it is very profitable and preferred among most households. Through this project NYDHEE has supported farmers for increasing the profitability in BYP through following activities like ND and FP vaccination to check mortality, deworming for parasite control, skilling them to prepare homemade supplemental high protein feed like azolla and Termite farming for feed to poultry and Low cost housing for protection from predators. During the year 2019-20, 140370 poultry has received vaccination support in 79 project villages.

All 5010 households are trained and linked with market for feed management through this project and during this period 4559 numbers of Individual Back Yard Poultry (IBYP) and 12 Community Level Poultry Farming (CLP) have been promoted.

Livelihood initiatives in Non-farm sector:

In addition to livelihood intervention in Farm sectors, we have actively promoted various enterprise programme among the community to enhance their livelihood security and diversifying income sources. The beneficiaries mainly women from the SHGs were provided skill training and exposures to start their enterprises like pickle making, badi making, mushroom cultivation, tailoring etc.

Eshakti- Digitization of SHGs:

With support from the NABARD, NYDHEE was part of initiating Eshakti programme in Bisoj and Bangriposi block of Mayurbhanj district. The project aims at digitisation of all the SHG accounts to bring SHG members under the fold of Financial Inclusion, thereby helping them access wider range of financial services together with increasing the bankers' comfort in credit appraisal and linkage. NYDHEE has engaged 30 animators to capture the data of demographic and financial profiles of members, including their identification data like Aadhaar and EPIC. These animators were trained by the team of NABARD to undertake the activities effectively.

After the collection of data from the field, these are uploaded onto the website. The transactions are updated through 'apps' on android Mobile/Tablet. Data authenticity is ensured through SMS alerts to members and sample audits. MIS reports on groups are generated and progress is tracked on a real time basis. Overall, the whole ecosystem was designed to address the complex issue related to patchy financial records of SHGs.

The digital empowerment will help in bringing SHGs on a common web based e-platform by making book keeping easy for low literacy clients. This will help in promoting national agenda of Financial Inclusion and pave the way of credibility of SHG data which can later be used by Credit Bureaus to reduce the issues related to multiple financing by banks.

PROTECTING THE HEALTH OF MARGINALIZED COMMUNITIES

NYDHEE is continuously putting its efforts towards a healthy and prosperous society by meaningful community centric intervention in WASH and Nutrition security of marginalized communities. NYDHEE is practicing unique multi-sectoral approach to address the health, WASH and nutritional needs by integrating key hygiene actions - safe drinking water, nutrition support to vulnerable groups, safe disposal of household waste materials and handwashing with soap. In addition, it lays out specific orientation programs to strengthen the community's WASH behaviour.

NYDHEE follows a comprehensive approach - sustained awareness regarding the good practices of health and hygiene; promoting improvements in key WASH practices, improving access to safe water and sanitation technologies and products; and facilitating or supporting an enabling ecosystems services, is to reduce the pathogen load in the environment and overcome the causes of gut dysfunction and infectious diseases.

Clean Water Initiatives:

In association with Native Energy, NYDHEE provides education to the marginalised groups to access safe drinking water. Community members in Jharkhand and West Bengal are regularly using the HydrAid Filter, which cleans unsafe water through Bio-sand process. With this intervention, we continued to be creating huge impact in marginalised communities in Jharkhand and West Bengal. The project is changing lives by promoting clean drinking water, socio-economic and health impacts through long-term, sustainable solutions helping these poor households. With safe drinking water, communities reduce time absent from school or work due to illness and save money on medical expenses. This project presents a new solution to the challenges of extreme poverty, poor health, and the increasing carbon dioxide emissions associated with burning wood to boil water for drinking.

Under the Bio-sand filter restoration and monitoring project, our staff members regularly visit households to educate families on sustained use of filters and maintain good WASH practices. In addition to that we regularly undertake various tests and studies to measure the impact of our intervention. During the year, we have conducted Annual Monitoring survey, Water Quality Test and Water consumption Test in selected beneficiaries' households of West Bengal and Jharkhand. The process is undertaken to measure the impact of the project on the targeted community as well as quality of water and environmental impact. We have also conducted Baseline survey and Water boiling Tests at Gumla, Ranchi and Khunti districts of Jharkhand. The aim of the survey is to find out the behaviour of people in households in relation to the water they use for drinking.

The bio-sand filter projects cover 1000 vulnerable households in 6 districts of west Bengal and Jharkhand.

Supplying Vita-A Capsule and Deworming Tablet to children and pregnant women:

Realizing the grave maternal and child health situation in remote rural areas, NYDHEE has been dedicatedly working on improving nutrition outcomes in 14 remotely located GPs of Mayurbhanj and Bolangir district with the support of Vitamin angels. Under this program, we conduct health camps and door to door visits for distributing micronutrients, especially vitamin A, albendazole and multivitamins among the at-risk population. The nutrition mission for mother and child is also supported by a network of Anganwadi workers, ASHA, ANM, and other health workers.

and mainly the subjects that are taught through digital device are Maths, English, Hindi, Science and Social Science & English. Children who are enrolled in the government schools are helped in following their school curriculum and their progress is monitored regularly. The teachers in learning centres help them in understanding basic concepts, something that they are not able to do in the government schools.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT INITIATIVES:

With support of GOONJ, CLOTH FOR WORK -CFW programme is being implemented in Dhangillimata and Tamal Bandh village of Nuagaon GP of Bisoi block (Mayurbhanj). The programme was implemented with the active support of villagers of both villages and the development works were decided by themselves. Villagers contributed their labour in repairing village road, cleaning premises of tube wells and wells and cleaning the village roads and colonies. After the accomplishment of work, a family kit (Cloths and other household items) was distributed to each participating family.

In the past, NYDHEE with support of GOONJ has organised Cloth for Work (CFW) programme in several villages of Mayurbhanj district and undertaken several village infrastructure projects, including building school boundary wall, repairing and construction of road, cleaning of ponds and tube wells, among others.

ENVIRONMENT CONSERVATION:

With support from Padi Foundation (USA), NYDHEE has undertaken awareness & education activities on conservation of endangered species of olive ridleys turtle with various stake holders of Rushikulya River mouth in Ganjam District of Odisha. This project involved 10 villages of the Rushikulya river mouth which spans an around 4-6 km along Bay of Bengal. Through creation of awareness, education and build the capacity of the villagers, local level institution, village leaders, youths, teachers & school children, around 100 change agents from the community has been created to protect and create conducive environment for olive ridleys turtle to complete their breeding process smoothly.
